CONTRIBUTION OF MANUSCRIPTS FOR PUBLICATION IN RDA JOURNALS

RDA accepts the following contributions for publication in its International Journals.

- ◆ Original research
- ◆ Review article
- ◆ Abstracts of Doctoral Dissertations
- ◆ Case study
- ◆ Perspective, opinion and commentary
- ◆ Book review

The key criterion for publication in RDA Journals is that the manuscript should be fit for the particular journal. A manuscript of more specific & interest may be better suited to a specialized journal. Manuscripts for RDA journals are to be submitted according to the “Guidelines for Authors” in the RDA website www.rdaindia.net.

On receipt, the journal editorial team may give the manuscript a preliminary read to ensure that it generally adheres to APA Style & the content is within the purview of the journal and the type of article (e.g., empirical study, theoretical review) is appropriate for the journal. If a manuscript is clearly inappropriate, the editorial team will inform the author. Otherwise, the author can expect the manuscript to undergo peer review. The review process can vary in length, but authors can anticipate a response regarding the publication decision within 10 - 15 days.

Conducting research and writing articles invokes challenges which involves considerable investments of time and energy, intellectual rigor and fortitude. RDA encourage new scholars and researchers to take the progressive steps of developing their manuscripts for publications in RDA International Journals. Bringing to fruitful hard work of one's research and sharing one's findings with the scientific community can bring personal rewards. Beyond such rewards, it is through this continuous communication of theoretical developments, carefully planned & executed research, discovery and application can advance.

Authors can send the manuscripts to below email id:
